For information about the estimated value of the notes, which likely will be lower than the price you paid for the notes, see the hyperlink above.

Payment at Maturity

If the Final Value of the Underlying is greater than its Initial Value, you will receive a cash payment that provides you with a return per $1,000 principal amount note equal to the Underlying Return multiplied by the Upside Leverage Factor, subject to the Maximum Return on the notes.

If the Final Value of the Underlying is equal to or less than its Initial Value by up to the Buffer Amount, you will receive the principal amount of your notes at maturity.

If the Underlying declines from its Initial Value by greater than the Buffer Amount, you will lose 1% of the principal amount of your notes for every 1% that the Underlying has declined beyond the Buffer Amount.

Any payment on the notes is subject to the credit risk of JPMorgan Chase Financial Company LLC, as issuer of the notes and the credit risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co., as guarantor of the notes.

* To be determined on the Pricing Date, but not less than 29.00% or greater than 33.00%.

 Reflects a Maximum Return of 29.00% for illustrative purposes.

The hypothetical returns and hypothetical payments on the notes shown above apply only at maturity. These hypotheticals do not reflect fees or expenses that would be associated with any sale in the secondary market. Selected Risks (continued)

The price, if any, at which JPMS will be willing to purchase notes from you in the secondary market, if at all, may result in a significant loss of your principal.
- Potential conflicts: We and our affiliates play a variety of roles in connection with the issuance of notes, including acting as calculation agent and hedging our obligations under the notes, and making the assumptions used to determine the pricing of the notes and the estimated value of the notes when the terms of the notes are set. It is possible that such hedging or other trading activities of J.P. Morgan or its affiliates could result in substantial returns for J.P. Morgan and its affiliates while the value of the notes decline.
- The tax consequences of the notes may be uncertain. You should consult your tax adviser regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the notes.
