JPMorgan Chase & Co. Notes linked to the common stock of The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation due on or about October 20, 2011

JPMorgan Chase & Co. Notes linked to the common stock of Chesapeake Energy Corporation due on or about October 20, 2011

Investment Description

Yield Optimization Notes with Contingent Protection are senior, unsecured Notes issued by JPMorgan Chase & Co. (the "Issuer") (each, a "Note" and collectively, the "Notes") linked to the performance of the common stock of a specific company (the "Underlying Stock"). The Notes pay an enhanced coupon and provide either a return of principal or the Cash Equivalent of one share of the applicable Underlying Stock at maturity. The enhanced coupon is designed to compensate you for the risk that you may receive the Cash Equivalent of a share of the applicable Underlying Stock at maturity for each Note held that is worth less than your principal. At maturity, you will receive the Cash Equivalent of one share of the applicable Underlying Stock (subject to adjustments, in the case of certain corporate events described in the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-8-A-I under "General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments," in the sole discretion of the calculation agent) for each of your Notes if the closing price of the applicable Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date (the "Final Price") is below the specified Trigger Price. Otherwise, you will receive your principal in cash. We will make coupon payments during the term of the Notes regardless of the performance of the applicable Underlying Stock. Investing in the Notes involves significant risks. You may lose some or all of your principal. The contingent protection feature applies only if you hold the securities until maturity. Any payment on the Notes is subject to the creditworthiness of the Issuer.

Features

- q Income Regardless of the performance of the applicable Underlying Stock, we will pay you enhanced coupons designed to compensate you for the fact that you could lose some or all of your principal.
- Tactical Investment Opportunity If you believe the applicable Underlying Stock will trend sideways over the term of the Notes neither moving positively by more than the coupon paid on the Notes nor negatively by more than the amount of the contingent protection the Note may provide improved performance compared to a direct investment in the applicable Underlying Stock.
- q Contingent Protection Feature If you hold the Notes to maturity and the applicable Underlying Stock does not close below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, you will receive 100% of your principal, subject to the creditworthiness of JPMorgan Chase & Co., and you will not participate in any appreciation of the applicable Underlying Stock. If you hold the Notes to maturity and the applicable Underlying Stock closes below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, you will receive the Cash Equivalent of one share (subject to adjustments in the case of certain corporate events) of the applicable Underlying Stock, which will be less than your principal and may be zero.

Each of the two Note offerings is linked to the common stock of a different company, and each of the two Note offerings has a different Coupon per Annum, Initial Price and Trigger Price. The indicative Coupon per Annum and Trigger Price for each note are listed below. The actual Coupon per Annum, Initial Price and Trigger Price for each Note offering will be set on the Trade Date. The performance of each Note offering will not depend on the performance of the other Note offering.

The Notes may be suitable for you if, among other considerations:

- ® You have a moderate to high risk tolerance.
- You are willing to receive the Cash Equivalent of shares of the applicable Underlying Stock at maturity, an amount that will be less than your principal and may be zero.
- You believe the market price of the applicable Underlying Stock is not likely to appreciate by more than the value of the coupons paid on the Notes.
- You believe the Final Price of the applicable Underlying Stock is not likely to be below the applicable Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date.
 Da
- You are willing to make an investment that will be exposed to the same downside price risk as an investment in the applicable Underlying Stock.
- ® You are willing to make an investment with upside limited to the applicable Coupon per Annum.
- ® You are willing to accept the risk of fluctuations in the market price of the applicable Underlying Stock.
- You are willing to invest in the Notes based on the anticipated Coupon per Annum range (the actual applicable Coupon per Annum will be determined on the Trade Date).
- You are willing to hold the Notes to maturity, a term of 24 months, and accept that there may be little or no secondary market for the Notes.
- ® You are comfortable with the creditworthiness of JPMorgan Chase & Co., as Issuer of the Notes.

The Notes may not be suitable for you if, among other considerations:

- ® You seek an investment that is 100% principal protected.

- ® You are not willing to accept the risks of owning equities in general and the applicable Underlying Stock in particular.
- ® You seek an investment with unlimited upside.

- ® You are unable or unwilling to hold the Notes to maturity.
- ® You seek an investment for which there will be an active secondary market.
- ® You are not willing or unable to assume the credit risk associated with JPMorgan Chase & Co., as Issuer of the Notes.

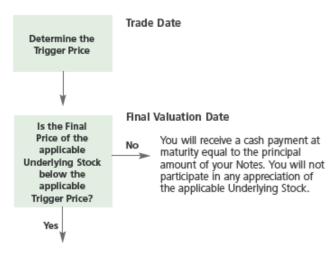

The suitability considerations identified above are not exhaustive. Whether or not the Notes are a suitable investment for you will depend on your individual circumstances, and you should reach an investment decision only after you and your investment, legal, tax, accounting, and other advisors have carefully considered the suitability of an investment in the Notes in light of your particular circumstances. You should also review carefully the "Key Risks" on page 8 of this free writing prospectus and "Risk Factors" in the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-8-A-I for risks related to an investment in the Notes.

Hypothetical Examples — Note Returns at Maturity

The following examples illustrate the payment at maturity on a hypothetical offering of the Notes assuming the following*:

Underlying Stock:	Chesapeake Energy Corporation
Term:	24 months
Coupon per Annum:	9.125% (or $0.2053 per monthly period)
	(9.125% is the midpoint of the range of 8.00% to 10.25%)
Initial Price of the Underlying Stock:	$27.00 per share
Trigger Price:	$16.20 (60% of the Initial Price)
Principal Amount:	$27.00 per Note (set equal to the Initial Price)
Dividend yield on the Underlying Stock:	2.26% during the term of the Notes (1.13% annual dividend vield)

* Actual Coupon per Annum and other terms for each Note to be set on the Trade Date. The actual value of the coupon payments you will receive over the term of the Notes, the actual Cash Equivalent of one share of the applicable Underlying Stock or the principal amount, as applicable, you may receive at maturity and the actual Trigger Price applicable to your Notes may be more or less than the amounts displayed in this hypothetical and the hypothetical scenarios below, and will depend in part on the Initial Price of the applicable Underlying Stock, which will be set on the Trade Date.

 Coupon payments will be paid in arrears in monthly installments during the term of the Note on an unadjusted basis. If the actual Coupon per Annum as determined on the Trade Date is less than 9.125%, your coupon payments over the term of the Notes will be lower than the hypothetical coupon payments and total return shown below.

 Dividend yield assumed received by holders of the applicable Underlying Stock during the term of the Notes.

Scenario #1: The Final Price of the applicable Underlying Stock is not below the Trigger Price of $16.20.

Because the Final Price of the Underlying Stock is not below the Trigger Price of $16.20, you will receive at maturity a cash payment equal to the principal amount of the Notes. This investment would outperform an investment in the Underlying Stock if the price appreciation of the Underlying Stock (plus dividends, if any) is less than 18.25%.

If the closing price of the Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date is $27.00 (no change in the price of the Underlying Stock):

Payment at Maturity:	$27.00
Coupons:	$4.927 ($0.2053 x 24 = $4.927)
Total:	$31.927
Total Return on the Notes:	18.25%

In this example, the total return on the Notes is 18.25% while the total return on the Underlying Stock is 2.26% (including dividends).

If the closing price of the Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date is $35.10 (an increase of 30%):

Payment at Maturity:	$27.00
Coupons:	$4.927 ($0.2053 x 24 = $4.927)
Total:	$31.927
Total Return on the Notes:	18.25%

In this example, the total return on the Notes is 18.25% while the total return on the Underlying Stock is 32.26% (including dividends).

If the closing price of the Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date is $22.95 (a decline of 15%):

Payment at Maturity:	$27.00
Coupons:	$4.927 ($0.2053 x 24 = $4.927)
Total:	$31.927
Total Return on the Notes:	18.25%

In this example, the total return on the Notes is 18.25% while the total return on the Underlying Stock is a loss of 12.74% (including dividends).

Scenario #2: The Final Price of the Underlying Stock is below the Trigger Price of $16.20.

Because the Final Price of the Underlying Stock is below the Trigger Price of $16.20, you will receive at maturity the Cash

Equivalent of one share of the Underlying Stock for every Note you hold. The payment received at maturity and the total return on the Notes at that time depends on the Final Price of the Underlying Stock.

If the closing price of the Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date is $10.80 (a decline of 60%):

Payment at Maturity:	$10.80
Coupons:	$4.927 ($0.2053 x 24 = $4.927)
Total:	$15.727
Total Return on the Notes:	-41.75%

In this example, the total return on the Notes is a loss of 41.75% while the total return on the Underlying Stock is a loss of 57.74% (including dividends).

If the closing price of the Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date is $14.85 (a decline of 45%):

Payment at Maturity:	$14.85
Coupons:	$4.927 ($0.2053 x 24 = $4.927)
Total:	$19.777
Total Return on the Notes:	-26.75%

In this example, the total return on the Notes is a loss of 26.75% while the total return on the Underlying Stock is a loss of 42.74% (including dividends).

The numbers appearing in these hypothetical examples have been rounded for ease of analysis.

Hypothetical Return Table of the Notes at Maturity

The table below is based on the following assumptions*:

Term:	24 months
Coupon per Annum:	9.125% (or $0.2053 per monthly period)
	(9.125% is the midpoint of the range of 8.00% to 10.25%)
Initial Price:	$27.00 per share
Trigger Price:	$16.20 (60% of the Initial Price)
Principal Amount:	$27.00 per Note (set equal to the Initial Price)
Dividend yield on the Underlying Stock:	2.26% during the term of the Notes (1.13% annual dividend yield)

* Actual Coupon per Annum and other terms for each Note to be set on the Trade Date. The actual value of the coupon payments you will receive over the term of the Notes, the Cash Equivalent of one share of the Underlying Stock or the principal amount, as applicable, you may receive at maturity, and therefore the Total Return at Maturity, and the actual Trigger Price applicable to your Notes may be more or less than the amounts displayed in this hypothetical and the hypothetical table below, and will depend in part on the Initial Price of the Underlying Stock, which will be set on the Trade Date.

 Coupon payment will be paid in arrears in monthly installments during the term of the Note on an unadjusted basis. If the actual Coupon per Annum as determined on the Trade Date is less than 9.125%, your payment at maturity + coupon payments and total return on the notes at maturity will be lower than the hypothetical amounts shown below.

 Dividend yield assumed received by holders of the Underlying Stock during the term of the Notes.

(2) A trigger event occurs if the Final Price of the Underlying Stock is below the Trigger Price.

(3) The Final Stock Price is as of the Final Valuation Date.

(4) The total return on the Underlying Stock at maturity includes a 2.26% cash dividend payment.

(5) (6) Payment consists of the Principal Amount plus coupon payments of 9.125% per annum.

The total return on the Notes at maturity includes coupon payments of 9.125% per annum.

(7) Payment consists of the Cash Equivalent of one share of the Underlying Stock plus coupon payments of 9.125% per annum.

What Are the Tax Consequences of the Notes?

You should review carefully the section entitled "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-8-A-I, bearing in mind that the Notes do not have an Observation Period or Observation Days. Subject to the limitations described therein, and based on certain factual representations received from us, in the opinion of our special tax counsel, Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, it is reasonable to treat the Notes as units comprising an Option and a Deposit for U.S. federal income tax purposes. For each Note offering, we will determine the portion of each coupon payment that we will allocate to interest on the Deposit and to Premium, respectively, and will provide that allocation in the pricing supplement for the Notes. By purchasing the Notes, you agree to treat the Notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes consistently with our treatment and allocation as described above. If the Notes had priced on October 2, 2009, we would have treated as interest on the Deposit and as Premium the following amounts:

Underlying Stock	Coupon per Annum	Interest on Deposit component per Annum	Premium component per Annum
The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation	9.125%	1.84%	7.285%
Chesapeake Energy Corporation	9.125%	1.84%	7.285%

The actual allocation that we will determine for each Note offering may differ from this hypothetical allocation, and will depend upon a variety of factors, including actual market conditions and our borrowing costs for debt instruments of comparable maturities on the Pricing Date. Assuming this characterization is respected, amounts treated as interest on the Deposit will be taxed as ordinary income, while the Premium will not be taken into account prior to maturity or sale. However, there are other reasonable treatments that the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") or a court may adopt, in which case the timing and character of any income or loss on the Notes could be significantly and adversely affected. In addition, in December 2007, Treasury and the IRS released a notice requesting comments on the U.S. federal income tax treatment of "prepaid forward contracts" and similar instruments. While it is not clear whether the Notes would be viewed as similar to the typical prepaid forward contract described in the notice, it is possible that any Treasury regulations or other guidance promulgated after consideration of these issues could materially and adversely affect the tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, possibly with retroactive effect. The notice focuses on a number of issues, the most relevant of which for holders of the Notes are the character of income or loss (including whether the Premium might be currently included as ordinary income) and the degree, if any, to which income realized by Non-U.S. Holders should be subject to withholding tax. Both U.S. and Non-U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding all aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, including possible alternative treatments and the issues presented by this notice. Non-U.S. Holders should also note that they may be withheld upon at a rate of up to 30% unless they have submitted a properly completed IRS Form W-8BEN or otherwise satisfied the applicable documentation requirements. Purchasers who are not initial purchasers of Notes at the issue price should also consult their tax advisers with respect to the tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, including possible alternative characterizations, as well as the allocation of the purchase price of the Notes between the Deposit and the Option.

Subject to certain assumptions and representations received from us, the discussion in the preceding paragraph, when read in combination with the section entitled "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in the accompanying product supplement, constitutes the full opinion of Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP regarding the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning and disposing of Notes.

Key Risks

An investment in the Notes involves significant risks. Investing in the Notes is not equivalent to investing directly in applicable Underlying Stock. These risks are explained in more detail in the "Risk Factors" section of the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-8-A-I.

Risks Relating to the Notes Generally

- 8 Your Investment in the Notes May Result in a Loss The Notes do not guarantee any return of principal. The payment at maturity will be based on whether the Final Price of the applicable Underlying Stock has declined below the applicable Trigger Price. Under certain circumstances, you will receive at maturity for each Note the Cash Equivalent of one share of the applicable Underlying Stock. The Cash Equivalent of shares of the applicable Underlying Stock you may receive at maturity will be less than the principal amount of your notes and may be zero. Accordingly, you could lose up to the entire principal amount of your Notes.
- ® Credit Risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co. The Notes are senior unsecured debt obligations of the issuer, JPMorgan Chase & Co. and are not, either directly or indirectly, an obligation of any third party. Any payment to be made on the Notes, including any element of protection provided at maturity, depends on the ability of JPMorgan Chase & Co. to satisfy its obligations as they come due. As a result, the actual and perceived creditworthiness of JPMorgan Chase & Co. may affect the market value of the Notes and, in the event JPMorgan Chase & Co. were to default on its obligations, you may not receive any element of protection or any other amounts owed to you under the terms of the Notes.
- ® Certain Built-In Costs Are Likely to Adversely Affect the Value of the Notes Prior to Maturity While the payment at maturity, if any, described in this free writing prospectus is based on the full principal amount of your Notes, the original issue price of the Notes includes UBS's commission and the estimated cost of hedging our obligations under the Notes. As a result, and as a general matter, the price, if any, at which J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., which we refer to as JPMSI, will be willing to purchase Notes from you in secondary market transactions, if at all, will likely be lower than the original issue price and any sale prior to the Maturity Date could result in a substantial loss to you. This secondary market price will also be affected by a number of factors aside from UBS's commission and our hedging costs, including those set forth under "Many Economic and Market Factors Will Impact the Value of the Notes" below. The Notes are not designed to be short-term trading instruments. Accordingly, you should be able and willing to hold your Notes to maturity.

- Risk of Loss of Contingent Protection Your principal will be protected only if the Final Price of the applicable Underlying Stock is not below the applicable Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date and the Notes are held to maturity. If the Final Price of the applicable Underlying Stock is below the applicable Trigger Trice on the Final Valuation Date, the contingent protection feature will be eliminated and you will be fully exposed at maturity to any decline in the market price of the applicable Underlying Stock. Greater expected volatility with respect to a Note's applicable Underlying Stock indicates a greater likelihood as of the Trade Date that a stock could close below its Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date of the Note. A stock's volatility, however, can change significantly over the term of the Notes. The price of the applicable Underlying Stock for your Note could fall sharply, which could result in a significant loss of principal.
- 8 Your Protection May Terminate on the Final Valuation Date If the closing price of the applicable Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date (i.e. the Final Price) declines below the applicable Trigger Price, you will be fully exposed to any depreciation in the applicable Underlying Stock. Because the Final Price will be determined based on the closing price on a single trading day near the end of the term of the Notes, the price of the applicable Underlying Stock at the Maturity Date or at other times during the term of the Notes could be at a level above the applicable Trigger Price. This difference could be particularly large if there is a significant decrease in the price of the applicable Underlying Stock during the later portion of the term of the Notes or if there is significant volatility in the price of the applicable Underlying Stock during the term of the Notes, especially on dates near the Final Valuation Date.
- 8 Your Return on the Notes Is Limited to the Principal Amount Plus Accrued Interest, Regardless of any Appreciation in the Value in the Underlying Stock Unless the applicable Final Price is less than the applicable Trigger Price, for each note, you will receive the principal amount at maturity plus any accrued and unpaid interest, regardless of any appreciation in the value of the applicable Underlying Stock, which may be significant. Your return on the Notes will not exceed the aggregate amount of the coupons payable over the term of the Notes. Accordingly, the return on the Notes may be significantly less than the return on a direct investment in the applicable Underlying Stock during the term of the Notes.
- 8 Single Stock Risk The price of the applicable Underlying Stock can rise or fall sharply due to factors specific to that applicable Underlying Stock and its issuer, such as stock price volatility, earnings, financial conditions, corporate, industry and regulatory developments, management changes and decisions and other events, as well as general market factors, such as general stock market volatility and levels, interest rates and economic and political conditions.
- ® No Ownership Rights in the Underlying Stock As a holder of the Notes, you will not have any ownership interest or rights in the, such as voting rights or dividend payments. In addition, the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock will not have any obligation to consider your interests as a holder of the Notes in taking any corporate action that might affect the value of the applicable Underlying Stock and the Notes.
- ® No Affiliation With the Underlying Stock Issuer We are not affiliated with the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock. We assume no responsibility for the adequacy of the information about the applicable Underlying Stock issuer contained in free writing prospectus or in product supplement no. UBS-8-A-I. You should make your own investigation into the applicable Underlying Stock and its issuer. We are not responsible for the applicable Underlying Stock issuer's public disclosure of information, whether contained in SEC filings or otherwise.
- B Lack of Liquidity The Notes will not be listed on any securities exchange. JPMSI intends to offer to purchase the Notes in the secondary market, but is not required to do so. Even if there is a secondary market, it may not provide enough liquidity to allow you to trade or sell the Notes easily. Because other dealers are not likely to make a secondary market for the Notes, the price at which you may be able to trade your Notes is likely to depend on the price, if any, at which JPMSI is willing to buy the Notes.
- Potential Conflicts We and our affiliates play a variety of roles in connection with the issuance of the Notes, including acting as calculation agent and hedging our obligations under the Notes. In performing these duties, the economic interests of the calculation agent and other affiliates of ours are potentially adverse to your interests as an investor in the Notes. We and/or our affiliates may also currently or from time to time engage in business with the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock, including extending loans to, or making equity investments in, the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock or providing advisory services to the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock. As a prospective purchaser of the Notes, you should undertake an independent investigation of the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock as in your judgment is appropriate to make an informed decision with respect to an investment in the Notes.
- R Anti-Dilution Protection Is Limited and May Be Discretionary Although the calculation agent will adjust the amount payable at maturity by adjusting the number of shares of the applicable Underlying Stock that may be delivered for certain corporate events (such as stock splits and stock dividends) affecting the applicable Underlying Stock, the calculation agent is not required to make an adjustment for every corporate event that can affect the applicable Underlying Stock. If an event occurs that does not require the calculation agent to adjust the number of shares of applicable Underlying Stock that may be delivered at maturity, the market value of your Notes and the payment at maturity may be materially and adversely affected. You should also be aware that the calculation agent may make any such adjustment, determination or calculation in a manner that differs from what is described in the accompanying product supplement as it deems necessary to ensure an equitable result. Subject to the foregoing, the calculation agent is under no obligation to consider your interests as a holder of the Notes in making these determinations.
- Redging and Trading in the Underlying Stock While the Notes are outstanding, we or any of our affiliates may carry out hedging activities related to the Notes, including in the applicable Underlying Stock or instruments related to the applicable Underlying Stock. We or our affiliates may also trade in the applicable Underlying Stock or instruments related to the applicable Underlying Stock from time to time. Any of these hedging or trading activities as of the Trade Date and during the term of the Notes could adversely affect our payment to you at maturity.

- ® Potentially Inconsistent Research, Opinions or Recommendations by JPMSI, UBS or Their Affiliates JPMSI, UBS or their affiliates may publish research, express opinions or provide recommendations (for example, with respect to the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock) that are inconsistent with investing in or holding the Notes, and which may be revised at any time. Any such research, opinions or recommendations may or may not recommend that investors buy or hold the applicable Underlying Stock and could affect the value of the applicable Underlying Stock, and therefore the market value of the Notes.
- Tax Treatment Significant aspects of the tax treatment of the Notes are uncertain. You should consult your tax adviser about your tax situation.
- ® Potential JPMorgan Chase & Co. Impact on Price Trading or transactions by JPMorgan Chase & Co. or its affiliates in the applicable Underlying Stock or in futures, options or other derivative products on the applicable Underlying Stock may adversely affect the market value of the applicable Underlying Stock and, therefore, the market value of the Notes.
- ® Many Economic and Market Factors will Influence the Value of the Notes In addition to the value of the applicable Underlying Stock and interest rates on any trading day, the value of the Notes will be affected by a number of economic and market factors that may either offset or magnify each other and which are set out in more detail in product supplement no. UBS-8-A-I.
