

JPMorgan Chase & Co. Autocallable Optimization Securities with Contingent Protection

Linked to the American depositary shares of BP p.l.c. due on or about June 24, 2011

Investment Description

Autocallable Optimization Securities with Contingent Protection, which we refer to as the “Notes,” are unsecured and unsubordinated notes issued by JPMorgan Chase & Co. (“the Issuer”) linked to the performance of the American depositary shares, which we refer to as the “ADSs,” of a specific company (the “Underlying Stock”). The Notes are designed for investors who want to express a neutral to bullish view of the Underlying Stock. If the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on any Observation Date is at or above the Initial Share Price (subject to adjustments, in the sole discretion of the calculation agent, in the case of certain corporate events described in the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-13-A-I under “General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments”), the Notes will be automatically called for an annualized return of 48.00%. If the Notes are not called, at maturity you will receive your principal, unless the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock has declined below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, in which case you will lose 1% of your principal for every 1% that the Final Share Price declines below the Initial Share Price. Investing in the Notes involves significant risks. You must be willing to risk losing up to 100% of your investment. The contingent protection feature applies only if you hold the Notes to maturity, and any payment on the Notes is subject to the creditworthiness of the Issuer.

Features

- q Tactical Investment Opportunity: If you believe the Underlying Stock will be flat or appreciate in value over the term of the Notes but are unsure about the exact timing or magnitude of the appreciation, the Notes provide an opportunity to generate returns based on this market view. The Notes will be automatically called for the principal amount plus the applicable Call Return if the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on any Observation Date is equal to or greater than the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on the Trade Date. If the Notes are not called, investors will have downside market exposure to the Underlying Stock at maturity, subject to the contingent protection feature.
- q Contingent Protection Feature: If you hold the Notes to maturity and the Final Share Price is not below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, you will receive at least 100% of your principal, subject to the creditworthiness of the Issuer. If the Final Share Price of one share of the Underlying Stock is less than the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, your Notes will be fully exposed to any decline in the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date relative to the Initial Share Price, and you could lose some or all of your principal amount.

Key Dates

As used in this free writing prospectus, the “Company,” “we,” “us” or “our” refers to JPMorgan Chase & Co.

Additional Terms Specific to the Notes

For purposes of the Notes offered by this free writing prospectus, notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth under “General Terms of Notes — Calculation Agent” in the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-13-A-I, all calculations with respect to the Trigger Price will be rounded up to the nearest cent (e.g., $30.761 is $30.77).

The Notes may be suitable for you if, among other considerations:

- ® You believe the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock will not be below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date.
- ® You are willing to expose your principal to the full downside performance of the Underlying Stock, if the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock is below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date.
- ® You believe the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock will be at or above the Initial Share Price on any Observation Date, including the Final Valuation Date.
- ® You believe the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock will remain stable for the term of the Notes and will close at or above the Initial Share Price on the Final Valuation Date.
- ® You are willing to hold Notes that will be called on the earliest Observation Date on which the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock is at or above the Initial Share Price, or you are otherwise willing and able to hold the Notes to maturity.
- ® You are willing to make an investment the return of which is limited to the pre-specified returns on Call Settlement Dates based on an annualized return of 48.00%.
- ® You are willing to invest in securities for which there may be little or no secondary market and you accept that the secondary market will depend in large part on the price, if any, at which JPMSI is willing to trade the Notes.
- ® You do not seek current income from this investment.
- ® You are comfortable with the creditworthiness of JPMorgan Chase & Co., as Issuer of the Notes.

The Notes may not be suitable for you if, among other considerations:

- ® You believe the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock will be below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date and that at maturity the Stock Return will be negative.
- ® You seek an investment that is 100% principal protected.
- ® You are not willing to make an investment in which you could lose up to 100% of your principal amount.
- ® You seek an investment the return of which is not limited to the pre-specified returns on Call Settlement Dates based upon an annualized return of 48.00%.
- ® You are unwilling or unable to hold Notes that will be called on any Observation Date on which the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock is at or above the Initial Share Price, or you are otherwise unable or unwilling to hold the Notes to maturity.
- ® You prefer to receive dividends paid on the Underlying Stock.
- ® You prefer the lower risk, and therefore accept the potentially lower returns, of fixed income investments with comparable maturities and credit ratings.
- ® You seek current income from this investment.
- ® You are unwilling or unable to assume the credit risk associated with JPMorgan Chase & Co., as Issuer of the Notes.
- ® You seek an investment for which there will be an active secondary market.

The suitability considerations identified above are not exhaustive. Whether or not the Notes are a suitable investment for you will depend on your individual circumstances, and you should reach an investment decision only after you and your investment, legal, tax, accounting, and other advisers have carefully considered the suitability of an investment in the Notes in light of your particular circumstances. You should also review carefully the “Key Risks” on page 6 of this free writing prospectus and “Risk Factors” in the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-13-A-I for risks related to an investment in the Notes.

* Contingent protection is provided by JPMorgan Chase & Co. and, therefore, is dependent on the ability of JPMorgan Chase & Co. to satisfy its obligations when they become due.

Determining Payment upon Automatic Call or at Maturity

Your Notes are not fully principal protected. If the Notes are not automatically called and the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock is below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, the contingent protection is lost and at maturity your principal amount will be fully exposed to any decrease in the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date relative to the Initial Share Price. Any payment on the Notes is subject to the creditworthiness of the Issuer.

The scenario analysis and examples below are hypothetical and provided for illustration purposes only. They do not purport to be representative of every possible scenario concerning increases or decreases in the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock relative to the Initial Share Price. We cannot predict the Final Share Price or the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on any of the Observation Dates (including the Final Valuation Date). You should not take the scenario analysis and these examples as an indication or assurance of the expected performance of the Underlying Stock. The numbers appearing in the examples below have been rounded for ease of analysis. The following scenario analysis and examples illustrate the payment upon an automatic call or at maturity for a $10 principal amount Note on a hypothetical offering of the Notes, based on the following assumptions (actual Initial Share Price and Trigger Price for the Notes will be set on the Trade Date):

Investment Term:	12 months (unless earlier called)
Hypothetical Initial Share Price:	$30.00
Hypothetical Trigger Price:	$15.00 (50% of the Initial Share Price)

Returns on Call Settlement Dates and Call Prices:

Observation Dates	Call Returns	Call Price*
July 19, 2010	4.00%	$10.40
August 18, 2010	8.00%	$10.80
September 20, 2010	12.00%	$11.20
October 18, 2010	16.00%	$11.60
November 18, 2010	20.00%	$12.00
December 20, 2010	24.00%	$12.40
January 18, 2011	28.00%	$12.80
February 18, 2011	32.00%	$13.20
March 18, 2011	36.00%	$13.60
April 18, 2011	40.00%	$14.00
May 18, 2011	44.00%	$14.40
June 20, 2011 (Final Valuation Date)	48.00%	$14.80

* Based on the return on Call Settlement Dates of 48.00% per annum

Example 1 — The closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock increases above the Initial Share Price to $40.00 on the first Observation Date — the Notes are called.

Because the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on the first Observation Date is at or above the Initial Share Price, the Notes are automatically called on the first Observation Date at the applicable Call Price of $10.40 per Note, representing a 4.00% return on the Notes. As long as the Underlying Stock closes at or above the Initial Share Price on any of the twelve Observation Dates, you will receive the applicable Call Price, regardless of whether or not the Underlying Stock would have closed below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date.

Example 2 — The closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on each of the first eleven Observation Dates is below the Initial Share Price and rises above the Initial Share Price to $40.00 on the Final Valuation Date — the Notes are called.

Although the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on each of the first eleven Observation Dates is below the Initial Share Price, the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date is above the Initial Share Price, and the Notes are automatically called on the Final Valuation Date at the applicable Call Price of $14.80 per Note, representing a 48.00% return on the Notes.

Example 3 — The closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock is below the Initial Share Price on all twelve Observation Dates but the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock is $25.00 which is not below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date — the Notes are NOT called.

Because the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on all twelve Observation Dates is below the Initial Share Price, the Notes are not automatically called. Furthermore, because (i) the Notes are not called and (ii) the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock has not declined below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, you will receive the principal amount of $10.00 per Note at maturity (a zero return).

Example 4 — The closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock is below the Initial Share Price on all twelve Observation Dates. In addition, the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock falls below the Trigger Price to $12.00 on the Final Valuation Date — the Notes are NOT called.

Because the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on all twelve Observation Dates is below the Initial Share Price, the Notes are not automatically called. Furthermore, because the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock has declined below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, you will lose contingent protection and will be fully exposed to any decline in the Final Share Price, as compared to the Initial Share Price. Therefore, the return on the Notes is -60.00%. Expressed as a formula:

$$\text{Stock Return} = (12.00 - 30.00) / 30.00 = -60.00\%$$

$$\text{Payment at Maturity} = $10 \times (1 + -60\%) = $4.00$$

In this example, you would lose some of your principal amount at maturity.

If the Notes are not automatically called and the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock is below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, the contingent protection feature is lost and you are fully exposed to any decreases in the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on the Final Valuation Date relative to the Initial Share Price and you could lose some or all of your principal at maturity.

You should review carefully the section entitled “Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences” in the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-13-A-I. Subject to the limitations described therein, and based on certain factual representations received from us, in the opinion of our special tax counsel, Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, it is reasonable to treat the Notes as “open transactions” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Assuming this characterization is respected, the gain or loss on your Notes should be treated as short-term capital gain or loss unless you hold your Notes for more than a year, in which case the gain or loss should be long-term capital gain or loss, whether or not you are an initial purchaser of Notes at the issue price. However, the Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”) or a court may not respect this characterization or treatment of the Notes, in which case the timing and character of any income or loss on the Notes could be significantly and adversely affected. In addition, in 2007 Treasury and the IRS released a notice requesting comments on the U.S. federal income tax treatment of “prepaid forward contracts” and similar instruments, which might include the Notes. The notice focuses in particular on whether to require holders of these instruments to accrue income over the term of their investment. It also asks for comments on a number of related topics, including the character of income or loss with respect to these instruments; the relevance of factors such as the nature of the underlying property to which the instruments are linked; the degree, if any, to which income (including any mandated accruals) realized by Non-U.S. Holders should be subject to withholding tax; and whether these instruments are or should be subject to the “constructive ownership” regime, which very generally can operate to recharacterize certain long-term capital gain as ordinary income and impose an interest charge. While the notice requests comments on appropriate transition rules and effective dates, any Treasury regulations or other guidance promulgated after consideration of these issues could materially and adversely affect the tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, possibly with retroactive effect. Both U.S. and Non-U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, including possible alternative treatments and the issues presented by this notice. Non-U.S. Holders should also note that they may be withheld upon at a rate of up to 30% unless they have submitted a properly completed IRS Form W-8BEN or otherwise satisfied the applicable documentation requirements.

The discussion in the preceding paragraph, when read in combination with the section entitled “Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences” in the accompanying product supplement, constitutes the full opinion of Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP regarding the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning and disposing of Notes.

Key Risks

An investment in the Notes involves significant risks. Investing in the Notes is not equivalent to investing directly in the Underlying Stock. These risks are explained in more detail in the “Risk Factors” section of the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-13-A-I.

Risks Relating to the Notes Generally

- Ⓐ Your Investment in the Notes May Result in a Loss: If the Notes are not automatically called and the Final Share Price has declined below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, you will lose 1% of your principal for every 1% decline in the Final Share Price compared to the Initial Share Price.
- Ⓐ Limited Return on the Notes: Your potential gain on the Notes will be limited to the applicable Call Price, regardless of the appreciation in the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock, which may be significant. Because the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock at various times during the term of the Notes could be higher than on the Observation Dates and on the Final Valuation Date, you may receive a lower payment if the Notes are automatically called or at maturity, as the case may be, than you would have if you had invested directly in the Underlying Stock.
- Ⓐ Credit Risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co.: The Notes are unsecured and unsubordinated debt obligations of the issuer, JPMorgan Chase & Co., and will rank pari passu with all of our other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations. The Notes are not, either directly or indirectly, an obligation of any third party. Any payment to be made on the Notes, including any element of protection provided at maturity, depends on the ability of JPMorgan Chase & Co. to satisfy its obligations as they come due. As a result, the actual and perceived creditworthiness of JPMorgan Chase & Co. may affect the market value of the Notes and, in the event JPMorgan Chase & Co. were to default on its obligations, you may not receive any element of protection or any amounts owed to you under the terms of the Notes.
- Ⓐ Potential Conflicts: We and our affiliates play a variety of roles in connection with the issuance of the Notes, including acting as calculation agent and hedging our obligations under the Notes. In performing these duties, the economic interests of the calculation agent and other affiliates of ours are potentially adverse to your interests as an investor in the Notes. We and/or our affiliates may also currently or from time to time engage in business with the issuer of the Underlying Stock, including extending loans to, or making equity investments in, the issuer of the Underlying Stock or providing advisory services to the issuer of the Underlying Stock. As a prospective purchaser of the Notes, you should undertake an independent investigation of the issuer of the Underlying Stock as in your judgment is appropriate to make an informed decision with respect to an investment in the Notes.

In addition, although the calculation agent will make all determinations and will take all actions in relation to the establishment of the Initial Share Price in good faith, it should be noted that such discretion could have an impact (positive or negative), on the value of your notes. The calculation agent is under no obligation to consider your interests as a holder of the Notes in taking any actions, including the determination of the Initial Share Price, that might affect the value of your Notes.

- Ⓐ Reinvestment Risk: If your Notes are called early, the holding period over which you would receive the per annum return of 48.00% could be as little as one month. There is no guarantee that you would be able to reinvest the proceeds from an investment in the Notes at a comparable return for a similar level of risk in the event the Notes are called prior to the maturity date.

- ® Single Stock Risk: The price of the Underlying Stock can rise or fall sharply due to factors specific to that Underlying Stock and its issuer, such as stock price volatility, earnings, financial conditions, corporate, industry and regulatory developments, management changes and decisions and other events, as well as general market factors, such as general stock market volatility and levels, interest rates and economic and political conditions.
- ® Certain Built-In Costs Are Likely to Affect Adversely the Value of the Notes Prior to Maturity: While the payment on any Call Settlement Date or at maturity, if any, described in this free writing prospectus is based on the full principal amount of your Notes, the original issue price of the Notes includes UBS's commission and the estimated cost of hedging our obligations under the Notes. As a result, and as a general matter, the price, if any, at which J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., which we refer to as JPMSI, will be willing to purchase Notes from you in secondary market transactions, if at all, will likely be lower than the original issue price and any sale prior to the maturity date could result in a substantial loss to you. This secondary market price will also be affected by a number of factors aside from UBS's commission and our hedging costs, including those set forth under "Many Economic and Market Factors Will Impact the Value of the Notes" below. The Notes are not designed to be short-term trading instruments. Accordingly, you should be able and willing to hold your Notes to maturity.
- ® Your Contingent Protection May Terminate on the Final Valuation Date: If the Notes are not called and the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock has declined below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date, you will at maturity be fully exposed to any depreciation in the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock. We refer to this feature as contingent protection. Under these circumstances, you will lose 1% of the principal amount of your investment for every 1% decline in the Final Share Price as compared to the Initial Share Price. If these Notes had a protection feature that was not contingent, under the same scenario, you would have received the full principal amount of your Notes at maturity. As a result, your investment in the Notes may not perform as well as an investment in a security with a return that includes non-contingent protection.
- ® Contingent Protection Applies Only If You Hold the Notes to Maturity: You should be willing to hold your Notes to maturity. If you sell your Notes in the secondary market, you may have to sell them at a discount and you will not have protection for any decline in the price of the Underlying Stock.
- ® The Probability That the Final Share Price Will Fall Below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date Will Depend on the Volatility of the Underlying Stock: "Volatility" refers to the frequency and magnitude of changes in the price of the Underlying Stock. If the Underlying Stock has historically experienced significant volatility, there is a higher probability that the Final Share Price will fall below the Trigger Price on the Final Valuation Date. As a result, you may lose some or all of your investment.
- ® No Dividend Payments or Voting Rights in the Underlying Stock: As a holder of the Notes, you will not have any ownership interest or rights in the Underlying Stock, such as voting rights or dividend payments. In addition, the issuer of the Underlying Stock will not have any obligation to consider your interests as a holder of the Notes in taking any corporate action that might affect the value of the Underlying Stock and the Notes.
- ® No Affiliation with the Underlying Stock Issuer: We are not affiliated with the issuer of the Underlying Stock. We assume no responsibility for the adequacy of the information about the Underlying Stock issuer contained in this free writing prospectus or in product supplement no. UBS-13-A-I. You should make your own investigation into the Underlying Stock and its issuer. We are not responsible for the Underlying Stock issuer's public disclosure of information, whether contained in SEC filings or otherwise.
- ® No Assurances of a Flat or Bullish Environment: While the Notes are structured to provide potentially enhanced returns in a flat or bullish environment, we cannot assure you of the economic environment during the term or at maturity of your Notes.
- ® No Periodic Interest Payments: You will not receive any periodic interest payments on the Notes.
- ® Lack of Liquidity: The Notes will not be listed on any securities exchange. JPMSI intends to offer to purchase the Notes in the secondary market, but is not required to do so. Even if there is a secondary market, it may not provide enough liquidity to allow you to trade or sell the Notes easily. Because other dealers are not likely to make a secondary market for the Notes, the price at which you may be able to trade your Notes is likely to depend on the price, if any, at which JPMSI is willing to buy the Notes.
- ® Anti-Dilution Protection Is Limited and May Be Discretionary: Although the calculation agent will adjust the Initial Share Price and Trigger Price for certain corporate events (such as stock splits and stock dividends) affecting the Underlying Stock, the calculation agent is not required to make an adjustment for every corporate event that can affect the Underlying Stock. If an event occurs that does not require the calculation agent to adjust the Initial Share Price and the Trigger Price, the market value of your Notes and the payment at maturity may be materially and adversely affected. You should also be aware that the calculation agent may make any such adjustment, determination or calculation in a manner that differs from what is described in the accompanying product supplement as it deems necessary to ensure an equitable result. Subject to the foregoing, the calculation agent is under no obligation to consider your interests as a holder of the Notes in making these determinations.
- ® Hedging and Trading in the Underlying Stock: While the Notes are outstanding, we or any of our affiliates may carry out hedging activities related to the Notes, including in the Underlying Stock or instruments related to the Underlying Stock. We or our affiliates may also trade in the Underlying Stock or instruments related to the Underlying Stock from time to time. Any of these hedging or trading activities as of the Trade Date and during the term of the Notes could adversely affect our payment to you at maturity.
- ® Potentially Inconsistent Research, Opinions or Recommendations by JPMSI, UBS or Their Affiliates: JPMSI, UBS or their affiliates may publish research, express opinions or provide recommendations (for example, with respect to the issuer of the Underlying Stock) that are inconsistent with investing in or holding the Notes, and which may be revised at any time. Any such research, opinions or recommendations may or may not recommend that investors buy or hold the Underlying Stock and could affect the value of the Underlying Stock, and therefore the market value of the Notes.

- ® Tax Treatment: Significant aspects of the tax treatment of the Notes are uncertain. You should consult your tax adviser about your tax situation.
- ® Potential JPMorgan Chase & Co. Impact on Market Price of Underlying Stock: Trading or transactions by JPMorgan Chase & Co. or its affiliates in the Underlying Stock and/or over-the-counter options, futures or other instruments with returns linked to the performance of the Underlying Stock may adversely affect the market price of the Underlying Stock and, therefore, the market value of the Notes.
- ® Market Disruptions May Adversely Affect Your Return: The calculation agent may, in its sole discretion, determine that the markets have been affected in a manner that prevents it from properly determining the closing price of one share of the Underlying Stock on an Observation Date, determining if the Notes are to be automatically called, calculating the Stock Return if the Notes are not automatically called and calculating the amount that we are required to pay you, if any, upon an automatic call or at maturity. These events may include disruptions or suspensions of trading in the markets as a whole. If the calculation agent, in its sole discretion, determines that any of these events prevents us or any of our affiliates from properly hedging our obligations under the Notes, it is possible that one or more of the Observation Dates and the applicable payment date will be postponed and your return will be adversely affected. See “General Terms of Notes — Market Disruption Events” in the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-13-A-I.
- ® Many Economic and Market Factors Will Influence the Value of the Notes: In addition to the value of the Underlying Stock and interest rates on any trading day, the value of the Notes will be affected by a number of economic and market factors that may either offset or magnify each other and which are set out in more detail in product supplement no. UBS-13-A-I.

Risks Relating to Notes Linked to the ADSs of BP p.l.c.

- ® There Are Important Differences Between the Rights of Holders of the ADSs of BP p.l.c. and the Rights of Holders of the Ordinary Shares of BP p.l.c. — For Notes linked to the ADSs of BP p.l.c. you should be aware that your return on the Notes is linked to the price of the ADSs of BP p.l.c. and not the ordinary shares of BP p.l.c. There are important differences between the rights of holders of ADSs and the rights of holders of the ordinary shares. Each ADS is a security evidenced by American Depositary Receipts that represents six ordinary shares of BP p.l.c. The ADSs are issued pursuant to a deposit agreement, which sets forth the rights and responsibilities of the ADS depository, BP p.l.c., and holders of the ADSs, which may be different from the rights of holders of the ordinary shares. For example, a company may make distributions in respect of ordinary shares that are not passed on to the holders of its ADSs. Any such differences between the rights of holders of the ADSs and the rights of holders of the ordinary shares of BP p.l.c. may be significant and may materially and adversely affect the value of the ADSs and, as a result, the Notes.
- ® Fluctuations Relating to Exchange Rates May Affect the Value of Your Investment in Notes Linked to the ADSs of BP p.l.c. — The ADSs of BP p.l.c. are quoted and traded in U.S. dollars, but represent a foreign stock that is quoted and traded in pound sterling on the London Stock Exchange and may trade differently from the ADSs of BP p.l.c. In recent years, the exchange rates between the U.S. dollar and the pound sterling have been highly volatile, and this volatility may continue in the future. Risks relating to exchange rate fluctuations generally depend on economic and political events over which we have no control. Fluctuations in any particular exchange rate that have occurred in the past are not necessarily indicative, however, of fluctuations that may occur during the term of the Notes. Changes in the exchange rate between the U.S. dollar and pound sterling may affect the U.S. dollar equivalent of the price of the ordinary shares of BP p.l.c. on non-U.S. securities markets and, as a result, may affect the value of the Notes. As a consequence, such fluctuations could adversely affect an investment in the Notes. We also will not make any adjustment or change in the terms of the Notes in the event that applicable exchange rates should become fixed, or in the event of any devaluation or revaluation or imposition of exchange or other regulatory controls or taxes, or in the event of other developments affecting the U.S. dollar or the pound sterling. You will bear any such risks.
- ® An Investment in the Notes Linked to the ADS of BP p.l.c. Is Subject to Risks Associated with Non-U.S. Securities Markets — The ADSs of BP p.l.c. represent foreign stock. There is generally less publicly available information about non-U.S. companies than about those U.S. companies that are subject to the reporting requirements of the SEC, and non-U.S. companies are subject to accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards and requirements that differ from those applicable to U.S. reporting companies. Securities prices in non-U.S. countries are subject to political, economic, financial and social factors that may be unique to the particular country. These factors, which could negatively affect the non-U.S. securities markets, include the possibility of recent or future changes in the non-U.S. government's economic and fiscal policies, the possible imposition of, or changes in, currency exchange laws or other non-U.S. laws or restrictions applicable to non-U.S. companies or investments in non-U.S. equity securities and the possibility of fluctuations in the rate of exchange between currencies. Moreover, certain aspects of a particular non-U.S. economy may differ favorably or unfavorably from the U.S. economy in important respects, such as growth of gross national product, rate of inflation, capital reinvestment, resources and self-sufficiency.

Supplemental Plan of Distribution

We have agreed to indemnify UBS and JPMSI against liabilities under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or to contribute to payments that UBS may be required to make relating to these liabilities as described in the prospectus supplement and the prospectus. We have agreed that UBS may sell all or a part of the Notes that it purchases from us to its affiliates at the price indicated on the cover of this free writing prospectus.

Subject to regulatory constraints, JPMSI intends to offer to purchase the Notes in the secondary market, but it is not required to do so.

We or our affiliate may enter into swap agreements or related hedge transactions with one of our other affiliates or unaffiliated counterparties in connection with the sale of the Notes, and JPMSI and/or an affiliate may earn additional income as a result of payments pursuant to the swap or related hedge transactions. See “Use of Proceeds” beginning on page PS-15 of the accompanying product supplement no. UBS-13-A-I.
