13m Return Notes linked to the J.P. Morgan Kronos+SM Index

J.P. Morgan

The following is a summary of the terms of the notes offered by the preliminary pricing supplement hyperlinked below.

Index Overview

The J.P. Morgan Kronos+SM Index (the "Index") attempts to provide a dynamic rules-based exposure to the S&P 500[®] Index (the "Constituent"). The Index tracks (a) 0%, 100% or 200% of the price performance of the Constituent (i.e., dividends, if any, are not reflected), (b) a notional cash return (only if the exposure to the Constituent is 0%) or a notional financing cost (only if the exposure to the Constituent is 200%) and (c) the daily deduction of a fee of 0.95% per annum (the "Index Fee"). The Index's exposure to the Constituent is determined based on strategies that reference the following historical tendencies: (a) historical outperformance around the turn of the month; (b) historical price momentum ahead of monthly index options' expiry; (c) and historical mean reversion into month-end. The Constituent consists of stocks of 500 companies selected to provide a performance benchmark for the U.S. equity markets. The notional cash return and the notional financing cost are currently determined by reference to the Effective Federal Funds Rate.
